Dear Dr. Evelyn R. Fetalvero,

Warm Greetings!

We would to ask for your endorsement in our 1st International Research Conference (IRC) on Pharmacy, Nursing, Radiologic Technology and Medical Lab Science on 19th to 21st November 2019 at Davnor Gymnasium, Mankilam, Tagum City, Philippines with the theme "Transformative Research towards Collaborative Healthcare Outcome". Pre-conference workshop will be on 19th November 2019 for specialized topics.

This conference employs a cross-disciplinary and multi-disciplinary approach in understanding the phenomena of medical sciences. Topics included in this course are particularly chosen and designed to cover the important challenges the world faces today. This will encompass a wide range of topics and issues from theories to innovation and collaborative practices and from macro issues that impact the healthcare industry.

Participants will be provided with a critical understanding of the current impact of healthcare innovations to individual and society: The objectives of the course are the following:

1. To conduct an international conference to target science-oriented participants who will become ambassadors for transformative health innovations.
2. To build linkages between international and local participants through a common agenda.
3. To publish related research abstract and full paper in the international journal proceedings.

Target participants will be professional healthcare practitioners (pharmacist, nurses, radtech, medtech, physician, etc), postgraduate students, senior high school (STEM
