Undersecretary
Department of Education (DepEd)

Dear Atty. Nepomuceno A. Malaluan,

Greetings of equality!

BAYI Inc, a non-profit organization furthering women's participation and transformative feminist leadership through capacity building, research, and advocacy activities, the UP Center for Women's and Gender Studies (UPCWGS), and the UP Center for Women's Studies Foundation, Inc. (UPCWSFI) are embarking on a one year project entitled, "Angat Bayi Women's Empowerment and Leadership Program (AB WELP) for Civil Servants," in partnership with Global Affairs Canada and the Philippine Business for Social Progress (PBSP). The project will select 20 participants who are open and committed to enhancing their competencies in leadership and governance.

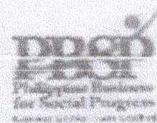

The Angat Bayi Women's Empowerment and Leadership Program aims to develop and support women leaders in the public sector who will support Angat Bayi's vision of a people-centered, rights-based, gender responsive, participatory, empowering, equitable, inclusive, and sustainable development agenda. It will enhance the capacities of these women on the following: (1) transformative feminist leadership; (2) inclusive, rights-based, democratic, and good governance; and (3) building and protecting democratic institutions and processes.

There is a need to change the culture among civil servants in order for women to aspire for leadership positions in the public sector. This should also pave the way for the emergence of young women leaders entering the public sector and the implementation of gender responsive and transformative policies, programs, and practices as we have seen in the Angat Bayi experience in previous years. Women in management positions will be capacitated on and organized around feminist leadership. After three successful runs with provincial board members and city/municipal mayors, vice mayors, and councilors from all over the country, the AB WELP Program will be piloted with women decision-makers in the civil service. The pilot program will target women participants from various government agencies who are expected to implement gender responsive and transformative policies and programs in their respective agencies/offices. The AB WELP Program will introduce peer mentors and advocate mentors who share the Angat Bayi values and principles to the first batch of AB WELP cohorts. The Program will hopefully contribute to the change of perceptions and attitudes in the civil service leading to a stronger, gender responsive, and gender transformative public sector.
